WALTER SCOTT ASKS...

DAVID FEHERTY

The irreverent CBS golf reporter and host of his own Golf Channel show will be roaming the fairways Aug. 7–10 at the PGA Championship.

Will Tiger be great again?

Yes. The mistake I've made is underestimating him. If he plays well, good luck to everyone else. He'll be No. 1 again.

Is golf good TV? People who watch golf still play it. You can't throw a 60-yard touchdown pass, but you can do what golf pros do. And they can screw up royally, just like you can. (Get Feherty's secret swing tip at parade.com/golf.)

You host Feherty's IED (Improvvised Explosive Day) for wounded vets.

It's all based on humor. Everyone is always 100 percent nice to these courageous Americans, which offers them no challenges. So I make fun of them, and they laugh. They say to me, "Thanks for being such a jerk."

Q: "Charlotte's Web" is often cited in the medical-marijuana debate. What is it? —George K., Miami

A: It's a strain of cannabis named after 7-year-old Charlotte Figi of Colorado Springs, Colo., who suffered severe epilepsy until doctors treated her with a variety of the plant that produces no high. The oil extract, added to her food, dramatically reduced her seizures, and hundreds of kids have since benefited from the same strain. "I've never seen anything quite like this," says Dr. Sanjay

Gupta, who featured Charlotte in his 2013 documentary Weed. "This is legitimately working for some patients. Charlotte seems to be doing really well." Her case has spurred several states to legalize medical marijuana. Should it be legal nationwide? Vote at parade.com/poll.

Ninja Turtle Leonardo

Q: Which Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle is the most popular? —Edie W., Boston

A: Judging by action-figure sales, it's Leonardo—with Raphael close behind. But the half-shell heroes are back in theaters Aug. 8, so don't count out the other pizza-loving turtles.

Q: Does Cher have an all-time favorite song to perform? —Judy T., Wichita, Kan.

A: The iconic singer, 68, still on her Dressed to Kill Tour, says "it's hard because there are songs that I really like to perform that aren't hits, like 2002's 'Song for the Lonely.'" Her least favorite? "Just Like Jesse James" (1989).

Q

Does chef Carla Hall have any good recipes using root beer?

—Harriet S., Atlanta

A: Aug. 6 is National Root Beer Float Day, and while you can't go wrong with a scoop of ice cream and a straw, root beer works wonders in the oven, too. The Chew's Carla Hall swears by her "cold, fizzy, and creamy" root beer bundt cake. Get the yummy recipe at parade.com/rootbeer.
